

EVERYONE COMMUNICATES

RELATED BOOK :

Everyone Communicates Few Connect What the Most

I love the tips and tricks how to communicate and build your network online. It's true- in our time everyone communicates- but very few people connect with each other because we don't let people come close in our life. We humans should care more about others than ourselves then we would better connect with others. We are only better together :-)

Great book to read, it takes time and I am repeating several pages again and again to memorize, learn and change my own communication style.

Everyone Communicates Main Page

As our name indicates, we believe that everyone communicates, in one way or another. We also believe that communication is a basic need in life. When an individual does not have fluent, natural speech, it is urgent that other methods of communication, often called augmentative or alternative communication (AAC), be explored exhaustively.
