Neck | Using the same colors used in the face, paint in the neck with a no. 8 round. Be sure to paint around the necklace. While wet, float in some Cobalt Blue for the chain of the necklace. Flesh Tones | While the neck area is drying, continue with the flesh tones (Winsor Yellow with Opera Rose over it) in the darker, more intense areas of the face. Avoid the area where the face meets the neck because it is still wet. You want to avoid unwanted bleeding, blooms or unevenness.

Paint Your Pup Create Artistic Watercolor Pet Portraits

Tips for painting watercolor pet portraits. I always encourage my students to spend several minutes simply studying the subject, noticing shapes and shadows and subtle changes in color, before commencing to paint. Then, while you re painting, you need to be constantly looking at your subject. Make it a habit for your eyes to be consistently glancing between your painting and your subject. This keeps your brain from filling in incorrect details, which our brains LOVE to do for us.
