Jaws is a 1974 novel by American writer Peter Benchley. It tells the story of a great white shark that preys upon a small resort town and the voyage of three men trying to kill it. The novel grew out of Benchley's interest in shark attacks after he learned about the exploits of shark fisherman Frank Mundus in 1964.

The best part about the book was the one time when the Great White Shark leaped from the ocean and shouted: Don't Hate The Player, Hate The Game! Okay, that might not have happened. Jaws tells the story of the people who live in Amity, a small seaside resort town which depends on summer tourists for its income.

Jaws is my favorite movie, so I decided to read the book. The book was amazing, the details with the town made the story really interesting. The only part of the story I didn't like was the part about Brody's wife cheating on him with Hooper.
