Copycat Starbucks Vanilla Iced Coffee Heidi's Home Cooking

Vanilla is the most popular syrup flavor at Starbucks so they usually have plenty of extras. This is my favorite flavor (besides pumpkin spice of course) so I use it in my iced coffee. However, if you want sweetened iced coffee like how Starbucks makes it, you'll need to buy a bottle of Classic syrup. It's nothing more than a simple syrup. Each syrup bottle costs about $12.95-14.95, depending on what part of the country you're in.

In a home setting, however, I'm more lenient with how long I keep it stored. Obviously though, if it smells bad, or if there's mold or buildup, then definitely get rid of it. It's your call.

Hi Carl, thanks for your comment. I think you might have read the recipe wrong. You're essentially making 8 cups of coffee concentrate, and then adding water, simple syrup and creamer per cup, so it makes a lot more than 8 cups of actual finished iced coffee.
