Years passed. The rain came, the sun shone, and the little trees grew tall. One day three woodcutters climbed the mountain. The first woodcutter looked at the first tree and said, This tree is beautiful. It is perfect for me. With a swoop of his shining axe, the first tree fell. Now I shall be made into a beautiful chest. I shall hold wonderful treasure! the first tree said.

The Tale of Three Trees by Angela Elwell Hunt Goodreads

I really like this book. In it, there are three trees. The first tree wants to be a treasure chest, filled with treasure. The second tree wants to be a mighty boat, carrying powerful kings. The third tree wants to stay on the hill, and whenever someone looks at her, she wants them to look up to heaven. Later, they all get cut down, the first tree into a manger the second into a fishing boat, and the third, into lost of beams. They will still get what they want.

The Story of the Three Trees WORD4LIFE

The three trees nearly forgot their dreams. But one night, golden starlight poured over the first tree as a young woman placed her newborn baby in the feed box. "I wish I could make a cradle for him." Her husband whispered. The mother squeezed his hand and smiled as the starlight shone on the smooth and sturdy wood. " This manger is beautiful." She said. And suddenly the first tree knew he was holding the greatest treasure in the world.

The Tale of Three Trees by Angela Elwell Hunt Tim Jonke

This book is one that I love. It's the story of three trees who have big dreams and aspirations for their uses when they grow up. In the end, they don't fulfill their dreams the way they originally wanted to, but their uses are even greater than they could ever imagine.
